

Eve Wilson Brings Our World Ascension Back for Second International Gathering October 17

Building on Last Year's First International Event, Wilson Is Calling Again for Support for What She Describes as Earth's Next Phase of Ascension

ANN ARBOR, Mich., October 1, 2026 — Last year, Eve Wilson invited people from different countries, backgrounds and spiritual paths to come together around one shared intention: healing and transformation for themselves while contributing their individual gifts toward the healing and ascension of the world.

Fifty-three people answered that call and built what Wilson describes as a foundation for the work she believes participants are ready to continue now. This year, on Saturday, October 17, Wilson is inviting people to come together again for the Second International Our World Ascension Event.

The three-hour global gathering will build what Wilson describes as a healing bridge across what could be three years of difficulty, with the intention of gentling the next period of experience for Earth.

Wilson believes last year's foundational work can now help support what she describes as Earth's next phase of ascension. Her intention for the second event is ambitious: to empower that next phase to unfold "50% easier and quicker" than she believes the coming shifts otherwise would, allowing Earth to bypass some of the destruction that could accompany change and helping the world ascend more gently.

Central to Wilson's work is the belief that people have an active role in that process. Each person, she says, brings individual strengths, challenges, spiritual gifts and opportunities for healing and transformation within their lives and soul contracts. Working with those opportunities, she believes, opens the way for others to heal and ascend as they are ready to.

"Your unique gifts, soul contracts and connections may be an essential piece for this work," Wilson said. "I hope you will feel a call within to lend your strength and love to this work."

The First International Our World Ascension Event brought together people primarily from the United States, with others joining from Costa Rica, Ontario, Quebec and France. Wilson described a group representing different cultures, spiritual paths and life experiences, each arriving with their own strengths and challenges.

Preparation began months before the actual gathering. Wilson has written that as people enrolled, she and her team began working for the world through the spiritual opportunities for healing and transformation carried within each participant's life and soul contracts. By the time the event arrived, she believed that work had already touched many aspects of life on Earth and paved the way for what the group would do together.

During the event, Wilson guided participants through grounding, healing, energetic clearing and deeper levels of unity.

This work generates what she calls the Holy Spirit/Force of Unity, allowing each person's Higher Selves to co-create within their lives. Wilson describes this as essential to co-creating the "New World Earth."

The participants themselves described what they experienced in much more personal terms.

One called the meditation "really powerful." Another said, "I felt strongly and truly connected."

One participant described becoming more present in her body, releasing things that needed to be let go and rediscovering a relaxed, grounded feeling that she found much better than spending so much time in her head.

Others spoke about what it felt like to contribute to something beyond themselves. One participant recalled moving through grounding, centering, chakra work and the Force of Unity before bringing unconditional love into the world. Another came away with a stronger sense of the importance of healing and strengthening oneself to be in a better position to contribute healing to others.

Jennifer H. participated through the recording after the live event had taken place. She described feeling connections between Earth and the universe as Wilson guided participants through expanding their energy fields. By the end, she said her view of the world had become "much lighter and more expansive."

For Wilson, the work continues even after the gathering is over.

In the days that followed last year's event, she wrote about sensing a "lighter, clearer, sweeter energy" in the world and what she perceived as a new level of clearing and healing taking place spiritually, emotionally and mentally. She encouraged participants to continue grounding themselves and carrying that sense of unity into their daily lives.

That continuation is an important part of how Wilson approaches ascension. She sees it as an ongoing process rather than something accomplished during a single gathering.

Her Healing & Ascension Monthlies bring together people who, in Wilson's words, are "shifting into their new world experience" while helping the world heal and ascend. The October OWA Event takes that work into a larger international gathering.

Wilson is also open about her belief that transformation is not always comfortable. She has compared periods of significant change to birthing pains, with old experiences, emotions and patterns sometimes surfacing and resolving to make room for something new and better.

"This is not backsliding — this is ascending!" Wilson says.

That same conviction is behind her invitation this year. Participants do not have to arrive with identical beliefs, experiences, skills or spiritual backgrounds. Wilson sees the differences each person brings, including their individual gifts and life experiences, as part of what they can contribute to the work.

The Second International Our World Ascension Event will take place Saturday, October 17, 2026, from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Pacific, 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Eastern and 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. in the United Kingdom.

Participants who enroll will also receive Wilson's Riding the Wave ebook and Chakra Calisthenics MP3.
